Americanoize is Promoting The Legendary Video Editing App in the USA market.

Los Angeles, Oct 6, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Today creators are full of imagination and ideas. They are determined artists searching for viral. Become viral is the goal. It happens when a video is viewed and shared by thousands, millions of people.

Which is the best way for a video to become viral? It must be engaging, emotional, valuable, short as necessary to be viewed and enjoyed. Mostly the video needs to be edited in the best and performant way.

Here VLLO is.

VLLO(www.vllo.io) is a free video editing application for iOS and Android globally in 12 languages. VLLO is equipped with every feature you need, like clip split, transition, music, subtitles, mosaic, and filters. Users can use VLLO free of charge for its basic features without a watermark. VLLO recorded 10M accumulated downloads with 2.5M monthly users globally. VLLO supports various video creators who tell their own stories with easy editing tools. VLLO was published by Vimosoft.co.,ltd., in 2015 in Seoul, Korea.

Americanoize, the global influencer marketing agency, is running a massive campaign in the USA for VLLO, combining Instagrammers and TikTokers, letting them realize amazing creative videos.

"Mostly, we are working with the youngest of Generation Z," says Americanoize. This App is simple to use and provides immediate extraordinary editing results, and creators love it. In less than 15 days, we already reached more than seven million combined followers, all hypothetical future creators". The Campaign will create more than 1,000 pieces of content to edit. This is a highly impressive influencer marketing case study that shows just how much key-creators can boost business. Some brands want to raise product awareness; others want to promote new products. And each time, influencers can deliver incredible results for the Campaign. So, especially in these unique, current circumstances, don't be afraid and start thinking of your Influencer Marketing Campaign!
