

Helen Ede, MD, a Family Physician with Physicians Alliance of Connecticut Primary Care – Madison

Get to know Family Physician Dr. Helen Ede, who serves patients in Madison, Connecticut.

New York City, Oct 23, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - With years of experience as a primary care physician and family physician, Dr. Ede has distinguished herself among patients for her thoughtful demeanor, medical expertise, and responsiveness to patient needs. Caring for patients from adolescence to end of life, she provides exceptional care both in office (Physicians Alliance of Connecticut Primary Care – Madison) and during home visits for patients when acutely sick.

Physicians Alliance of Connecticut (PACT) is a multi-specialty medical group that is led and operated by more than 50 physician members. It is committed to excellence, innovation, safety and quality in private-practice patient care in southern Connecticut. By taking care of business operations so that members can concentrate on patient care, PACT is preserving and strengthening private medical practice in the greater New Haven area. Each PACT member is given an equal voice and each practice is given as much autonomy as allowed by the law.

At the start of her academic career, Dr. Ede attended the University of Connecticut where she earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Medical Laboratory Science. She then worked for over 5 years at St. Raphael's Hospital as a Cytotechnologist before she went on to medical school at St. George's University in Grenada, West Indies where she earned her medical degree in 2001.

She continued her studies at Middlesex Hospital where she completed her residency in family medicine and was Chief Resident in her last year. Dr. Ede was a partner in her last practice where she worked for 13 years prior to joining PACT.

Dedicated to excellence, she is a member of the American Academy of Family Physicians, the Connecticut Academy of Family Physicians, and the American Society of Clinical Pathologists.

Furthermore, she is board-certified in family medicine by the American Board of Family Medicine, a non-profit, independent medical association of American physicians who practice in family medicine and its sub-specialties.

Family medicine is a medical specialty devoted to comprehensive health care for people of all ages. The specialist is called a family physician or family doctor. A family physician is often the first person a patient sees when seeking healthcare services. They examine and treat patients with a wide range of conditions and refer those with serious ailments to a specialist or appropriate facility.

In her spare time, Dr. Ede enjoys traveling, art, music, and literature.
