Delhi, Oct 9, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - The Founder CEO of L'strategyQ Advisors, Dr Vaneeta Aggarwal is invited as an international panelist on the Namibian chapter hosting part 1 of webinar series addressing the issue of Corporate Bullying. She strongly advocates anti-bullying policy at workplaces to promote mental health of employees and staff.

Earlier she hosted an international webinar on the topic "How to handle Workplace bullying and lobbying" in June with panelists from UAE and India and subsequently she appeared and voiced her views on International webinar initiated & hosted by Precious Gondawe, a leading legal professional from Botswana & joined by professional leaders from South Africa, aired on September 2020.

This time Namibia is hosting the webinar with panelists from India, Botswana & South Africa on October 9th, 2020.

As the host Sidney Boois, Speaker, Trainer & Life and Business Coach from Namibia remarked, "Organizations are continually experiencing unwanted and avoidable costs, due to undetected and omission to counter corporate bullying whereas legal instruments are used i.e. unfair labour practices which incur litigation and rehiring costs and loose of talented employees which dims future prospects of companies", it becomes the need of the hour to spread awareness and hold such campaigns on anti-bullying remedial measures.

The session would be hosted on Zoom and is aimed to cover:

What are the elements identify with corporate bullying?

what are the observations from practitioners, labour fraternity? what are the legal instruments available;

what countermeasures are suggested: Next steps or the new normal

There is an open session for interaction with participants.
