BRAVO = Business Reality And Virtual Options: It is the brainchild of self-dubbed “corpora-trons” who've spent many years perfecting doing business in the online space as keynote presenters and facilitators. Avid supporters of the arts, when the pandemic struck, they saw both a need and an opportunity to create a space that transforms the virtual experience from ordinary to extraordinary--Marrying the worlds of business and entertainment. For years, people have used digital means to connect when in-person was impossible, but until Covid struck, it was rarely considered the best option. CEO, Cindy Coe says, “Virtual was great until it wasn't. Except for a few innovative organizations, there wasn't a lot of creativity happening in the virtual meeting space. With Bravo Starz, we provide a means to captivate virtual audiences by providing affordable access to a variety of INTERtainment options, some that previously could only be seen in Broadway shows. It's a win-win! Most live venues are still dark, so these incredibly talented performers have been out of work for a long time. Bravo Starz gives them the opportunity to do what they love and gets paid; while employees, clients, and meeting attendees get to experience world-class INTERtainment LIVE, as a fun integration into content-rich events! Hiring a Bravo Star for your event is like having a backstage pass to the best show ever!”

"We believe virtual isn't going away. Even in a post-Covid world, the possibilities are endless! Virtual and hybrid (in-person+virtual combo) events are the wave of the future... Online Customer Appreciation events, Virtual or Hybrid Weddings for guests who can't be there in person, and Virtual Employee Recognition events mean no more expensive corporate boondoggles!" Coe said with a smile. Performances range from musical interlude intros and cameo appearances to one-hour plus shows! "We are so committed to this effort we have elected not to take salaries so that we can re-invest in the performers, infrastructure, technology, and marketing. And while we welcome testimonials, we don't allow reviews--These performers have been competing for parts and gig their whole lives—They are all Starz to us!"
