

Jack Harlow Drops Hot New Single "Tyler Herro"

Los Angeles, Oct 25, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Jack Harlow dropped a brand new track this week titled "Tyler Herro" also accompanying a visual. Harlow, who's from Louisville, Kentucky, is in fact referencing Miami Heat's NBA rookie Tyler Herro, who once played for the University of Kentucky's team Kentucky Wildcats. This is Harlow's first single since the release of his highly successful track "What's Poppin."

The single is Clocking in at roughly three minutes, the song is bass-heavy accompanied with a midtempo groove that highlights Harlow's catchy flows. The music video begins with a short scene of a young curly-haired child, who resembles Harlow, getting dropped off by his school bus and running towards his home through his suburban Louisville neighborhood. Next, the video cuts to sequences of Harlow enjoying his fame — shooting hoops with Tyler Herro, on a bed with two girls having a pillow fight, and on-set going through a wardrobe change. Harlow comes through with some notable lines too, like "My dawgs like to play Madden and 2K / But one thing they don't do is play about me / My homeboy Tyler, he play in South Beach / He told me this summer he gon' fix my jumper" and "I told Boi-1da that we might get a thumper / I been tryna pop, now I'm on like Shumpert / Now they on my bumper."

Check out Jack Harlow's new music video for his new track "Tyler Herro." today!

Media Contact

James Hardman

James@thebuzzreporter.com

2092377904

Source : The Buzz Reporters

See on IssueWire

