The various life insurance plans provided by Life Insurance by George include:

Insurance Plan for Burial and Final Expense: The best way to leave this world is to be loved unconditionally and without being a burden on them. This type of insurance allows you to be at peace that your burial expense will not be a burden on anyone.

Indexed Universal Life: This is a life insurance plan that is the same as traditional life insurance, but it accumulates in cash value as the market changes. This is linked to the market index and the interest gets added as market index changes. This life insurance plan is great for retirement, planning vacations, college expenses, and more.

Term Life Insurance: This life insurance plan is best for those who just need life insurance for a fixed period of time. In this plan, the premium remains the same, but it goes up as the age of the client increases. This is a great plan to save money, however you cannot add cash value with this plan.

Whole Life Insurance: This insurance plan has your premiums locked in for a set price and the benefits you get under this plan include death benefits. You can also add cash value. Some insurance companies may also increase the policy through dividend payments.

Living Benefits: In this plan, the living benefits are under certain conditions and no additional cost-riders allow access to death benefits when the client is alive. However, if the client experiences any terminal, critical or chronic illness then this plan can help them supplement their income and pay expenses.

Tax Free Retirement Planning: This permanent life insurance plans provide tax-free retirement planning. This policy allows you to add tax-deferred cash, which can be used as a type of retirement income.

Mortgage Protection Insurance: This plan assures that your loved ones have a house even if you pass away prematurely. This plan provides protection to your house and income if there is a terminal, critical, chronic injury or premature death.

If you have not taken any insurance or planning to take one, then get in contact with Life Insurance by George to help your family and finances with the latest insurance.
