

The Mekanix : The Backbone of Bay Area Music

Los Angeles, Oct 24, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - What attracts you to a popular song? Is it the artist's persona? Perhaps. Is it their lyricism? Quite possible. While these traits captivate the masses, beats are what intrigue me the most. I've always found myself keen to the individuals behind the scenes. Individuals that don't receive the credit they deserve. These are the producers.

For more than 15 years, The Mekanix duo have served as the Bay Area's one-stop for production, replays with live instrumentation, mixing, and mastering. 4rAx and Kenny Tweed's The Garage Studios has become a meeting place for West Coast veterans and new sensations alike, and their vaults are a marketplace for a culture driven by collaboration and cosigns.

The Mekanix constantly create, supplying all acts differently. They have more than 1,000 placements ranging from Dave East, E-40, keak Da Sneak to Mac Dre and Tha Jacka.

"You always hear that the Bay Area doesn't work together," says 4rAx, "From day one, we've been doing albums full of different artists. We've been that unified front for the Bay." From Dru Down to Lil Debbie, Iamsu to C-Bo, The Mekanix bridge the cities, the generations, and the styles of Northern California, one creation at a time.

The Mekanix videos has over 40 Million views on YouTube and 2million + Streams on Spotify
