

The Reno, Nevada-Based Private Investigation Company With A Competitive Edge

Bringing Value To Private Investigations With Cutting-Edge Processes

Reno, Oct 27, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Martin-Ross is the spearhead of innovative security solutions in Nevada. While they continue to offer proactive services across the state, the Reno-based security company implements various technological tools to advance not only their security offering but also to aid in their more specialized services. The Martin-Ross Private Investigations team is made up of some of the best private detectives in the country, and they're geared with the latest technology to offer innovative investigative services.

"Sometimes just taking one more step than everyone else is the difference between winning and losing. Many times, I find that extremely critical information is literally one page, one phone call, or one interview away from being discovered. I always turn the page, make the phone call, and conduct the interview with the mindset that if this information exists, I will find it." - Says Justin Olson, Senior Investigator at Martin-Ross.

Employing highly sophisticated, labor-saving technology has strengthened the security company's surveillance capabilities. Making it possible for the instinctive expertise of their private investigators to completely infiltrate each case they take on. From connected surveillance vehicles that collect information autonomously, to high-tech case management software, their qualified private detectives utilize the best equipment available to conduct the most efficient Private Investigations in Reno and throughout Nevada.

Justin Olson, Senior Investigator explains what sets them apart. "The investigative side of Martin Ross provides an honest and ethical work product with a results-driven focus on attention to detail. With this approach in mind, we can take on virtually any type of investigation and provide our clients with the critical information they need."

Martin-Ross's experienced investigations team specializes in both civil and criminal investigations, as well as sub-rosa and litigation support. Their private detectives value the criminal defense attorney niche, although they are more than capable of handling cases across the investigations spectrum. With an ever-increasing powerful tech-based process, there are also plans for a specialized team that will target workers' compensation surveillance in Reno and throughout Nevada.
