

Ultimate Solution HOME REWIRING Electrical Services in Leicestershire

C & M Electrical Company provides the best electrical services solution for residential and commercial buildings in Leicestershire. The company has over 30 years of experience and available 24/7 to serve its service.

Leicester, Oct 25, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - C & M Electrical Company, an electrical contractor based in Leicester announces house rewiring electrical service for residential and commercial buildings in Leicestershire and surrounding areas. According to a study, electrical wiring fault is included as the most common causes of a house fire in the UK aside from smoking, heating system, cooking, candles, appliances, children and intentional fire. C & M Electrical Company helps to solve electrical issues, particularly for housing in Leicester with competitive prices. They offer a wide range of electrical services, including electrical maintenance, electrical installation, home rewiring, and many more.

Rewiring the house is a messy and complicated task. Hiring a professional like C & M Electrical Company is the best solution for house rewiring in the Leicester area. C & M Electrical Company will send a team of technicians once they receive a call from a customer to solve their electrical issues. The company equips its technician with a service vehicle, the company uniform, photo id, and sophisticated equipment to solve electrical problems. In the site, their highly skilled technician will identify the problems, fix the issues, and issue bills to the client. In addition to the service, Chris Habbershaw, the company CEO said, "Our services are tailored based on the client's requirements, and we offer our service at a competitive price."

"Thanks to C & M Electrical Company. Our electrical issues are fixed now. Chris and his team are professional, they finished their work on time, and they provide unbeatable prices," said one of the satisfied customers.

About C & M Electrical Company

C & M Electrical Company is an electrical contractor that specializes in rewiring service both for residential, industrial and commercial buildings. It was established in 2005 by Chris Habbershaw, an experienced electrical engineer. The company is an NICEIC approved Electrical Contractors in Leicester and served residential and commercial buildings across Leicester. They are available 24/7, whenever the clients need their service, day or night, they are ready to help its client immediately. They strive to provide the best and excellent rewiring service in Leicester, by providing it service with various electrical services. They are committed to prioritizing its customers' satisfaction; every task is carried out from start to finish. They also provide affordable house rewiring cost for customers' best experience. For more information, please visit www.cmelectricalcontractors.co.uk.

Media Contact

C & M Electrical Company

chris@cmelectricalcontractors.co.uk

01162772773

Source : C & M Electrical Company

See on IssueWire