She joined Plastic Surgery Vegas in 2010 to lead the cosmetic laser department, offering concierge dermatology services to help individuals reach their cosmetic skin goals.

With the help of laser technology, Dr. Tam works to reduce dullness, fine lines, wrinkles, and discoloration without ever making an incision, changing the way many men and women care for their skin. Laser treatments continue to evolve, and she enjoys researching the latest developments to make sure her patients are always receiving the latest, proven treatments for their specific concerns.

“Plastic Surgery Vegas works diligently to uphold the highest standards of patient care, which is why when it came time to build our team, we selected professionals with diverse industry experience. Academically, Dr. Tam graduated with her Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine degree from the Western University College of Osteopathic Medicine of the Pacific in 2001. After her residency in family medicine, she chose to complete an additional 3-year residency in dermatology and dermatologic surgery. During this time, she trained in clinical dermatology, cosmetic dermatology, hair transplant procedures, lasers, dermatological surgery, and Mohs micrographic surgery.

As chief resident, she presided as the primary surgeon in hundreds of Mohs micrographic surgeries — highly specialized procedures for the optimal treatment of skin cancer. The American Society of Mohs Surgery allowed her the honor of taking their board exams prior to graduating, and she became a fellow of the board immediately after graduation.

Experienced in cosmetic dermatology and laser therapy, Dr. Tam also serves as the Medical Director at LaserAway. As the nation’s leading aesthetic dermatology group, LaserAway is proudly led by a diverse group of board certified physicians, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, and registered nurses.

Specializing in advanced resurfacing procedures, including lasers and peels, she is board-certified in dermatology by the American Osteopathic Board of Dermatology (AOBD). The AOBD is an organization that provides board certification to qualified Doctors of Osteopathic Medicine who specialize in the medical and surgical treatment of disorders of the skin

In addition to being a Fellow of the American Osteopathic College of Dermatology and a Fellow of the American Society of Mohs Surgery, Dr. Tam is a member of the American Academy of Dermatology, the American Osteopathic Association, and the American College of Osteopathic Family Medicine. Her articles and research have been published in the Journal of the American Osteopathic College of Dermatology.

Dermatology is the branch of medicine dealing with the skin, the largest organ of the body; a specialty with both medical and surgical aspects. A dermatologist is a specialist doctor who manages skin diseases and deals with both internal and external causes and some cosmetic concerns involving the skin. Dermatological duties include taking consultations, providing screening tests, and undertaking non-invasive surgical procedures.

Continuously advancing dermatologic care, Dr. Tam was awarded the “Top Beauty Expert” Award in 2013, 2014, and 2015 by New Beauty. She has sat on multiple Advisory Board Committees, spoken at conferences about laser therapy, and served as a test writer for the American Board of Osteopathic Dermatology.

Most of her free time is devoted to her husband, child, and extended family and friends.
