Baltimore Nighthawks Welcome PNC Bank as Corporate Sponsor

We are pleased to announce PNC Bank as an official corporate sponsor of the Baltimore Nighthawks for the 2021 season. We are members of the Women's Football Alliance (WFA) which was established in 2009 and has become the world's largest competitive women's tackle football league.

The Baltimore Nighthawks have established a goal to provide a safe and productive environment that enables women to learn and apply the principles of teamwork, discipline, dedication, and sportsmanship. The team works to facilitate the development of strength and character in everyone that participates. The Baltimore Nighthawks also have a demonstrated commitment to supporting various charities, youth programs and community engagement programs.

Tanya Bryan, chief executive officer of the Baltimore Nighthawks said: “We are excited about partnering with PNC Bank. This sponsorship allows us to expand programs for youth in our area as well as provide resources for the team. Having a sponsor like PNC who is committed to creating new opportunities for diverse groups is inspiring. We look forward to sharing information about PNC Bank and their amazing work with our fans, friends and family members as well as the local communities where we live and that we support.”

About the Baltimore Nighthawks

The Baltimore Nighthawks was formed in 2007, for the purpose of teaching women in Maryland and the surrounding areas how to play tackle football. Our aim is to deliver the message that women do belong on the football field. Football is the ultimate team sport. The knowledge, relationships and memories gained by playing this game are priceless. Our plans, hopes and ambitions are to bring women's football to a broader market and represent Maryland proudly. Being positive examples extends off the football field into the community we live and play in. As a team, we contribute our time to various charities including Healthcare for the Homeless and Mascots for a Cure. We believe it is important to work with our youth and get them moving and excited about fitness and sports. Many players and coaches work with various youth programs or go to elementary schools as speakers to promote the importance of sport and education. We were members of the Independent Women's Football League (IWFL) for nine years. At the start of our 10th season, we joined the Women's Football Alliance (WFA). In over thirteen seasons of Baltimore Nighthawks football, countless players and coaches have represented the Eastern Conference proudly in All-American games. As we start plans for our 14th season, we are proud of our history and looking forward to the future.
