New York City, Nov 11, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - “On this Veterans Day, we take a moment to reflect and honor those who have served in our armed forces. Although we can never repay them for their service our goal is to try our best to show our deepest gratitude. We understand that freedom isn’t free and we thank those that have paid the ultimate sacrifice for our freedoms” says Gibson Sylvestre.

Sylvestre had the honor of meeting and speaking with two military servicemen that he calls, “rock stars”; both of whom are centenarians (World War II Veteran corporal Sidney Walton age 101 and Tuskegee Airman Brigadier General Charles Edward McGee age 102 one of the first African American pilots in our nation’s history). See Photo Attached.

Sylvestre was so inspired that he decided to utilize his network to call for acts of service for service men/women and military families all through the country. On Veterans Day and for the remainder of the week please consider:

- Donating blood in honor of Veterans Day.
- Simply saying thank you to a service member, veteran, military family or first responder.
- Purchase meal or coffee for a service member.

While COVID-19 complicates how we’re able to honor our veterans on Veterans Day it certainly doesn’t prevent us from doing so even in the simplest of ways. In response to all of the negativity that seems to permeate our public discourse, Sylvestre wanted to shine a light of positivity on our veterans while bringing dignity, unity, honor, and respect to all.
