

Chief Chicago Limo Offers COVID-safe Limo Services Thanks to COVID Prevention Plans and Cleaning Routines

Chicago limousine company features coronavirus disinfection services to provide the safest limousine fleet for executive travel to and from Chicagoland airports.

Chicago, Nov 12, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - A local Chicago limo company is ahead of the game when it comes to dealing with the Coronavirus pandemic and ensuring that vehicles are safe to ride in. Chief Chicago Limo, a private transportation and driver company serving Chicago and the surrounding suburbs, has devised full-blown COVID-19 prevention strategy to make sure that limo rides are safe for both the passengers and the driver, with a variety of new procedures in place.

The new sanitary measures being taken by Chief Chicago Limo include the use of face masks for drivers and clients, time lapses for drivers between driving different clients, passenger limits, full vehicle disinfection and sanitization.

The precise measures vary depending on the prevention plan chosen by the client, of which there are six different options to choose from. “We know that this is an unprecedented time for everyone, and that everyone is coping and reacting differently,” explains Kalo “That is why we created a number of plans with varying measures and levels of precaution, so that every type of client could feel comfortable”. The most basic prevention plans include masks, hand sanitization, and a double disinfection system for the vehicle, while the most complex include COVID tests for the drivers and them wearing a lab coverall suit.

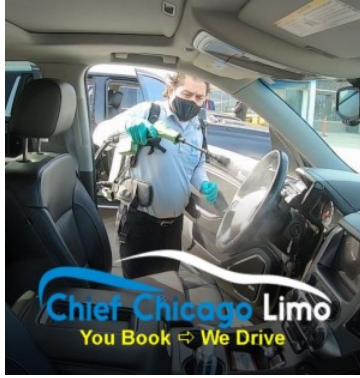

Chief Chicago Limo is also equally proud of the cleaning and disinfection system that they have devised for their vehicles. Using EPA-registered disinfection products, the team thoroughly cleans the cars in the manner that they always have, but now it is new and improved with stronger products and a double-disinfection for the most used surfaces, like door handles, seat belt, and charging plugs. The company has even posted a COVID cleaning demonstration online. They can also disinfect vehicles in front of client’s residence or office

Ultimately, the company explains that limo services are contributing to the prevention of Coronavirus spreading, as private car services are now one of the safest ways to travel in Chicago. The company’s services offer a means of traveling in a guaranteed disinfected vehicle, with a healthy driver, away from the crowds. Limo services are offered for virtually any route, meaning long-distance travels with a start or end point in Chicago are possible as well as an alternative to taking the plane.

“Keeping safe and Coronavirus-free is an effort on both ends,” explains Kalo. He affirms that the team will do its part – both corporate employees and drivers – and that the passengers must do the same. Passengers will be expected to sanitize hands before entering the vehicle, wear their masks, and respect guidelines on physical contact and passenger limits.

To book your COVID-safe limo services, you can schedule your pick-up online via the company’s website, where you can request your Coronavirus protection plan, or contact us to learn more about the service.
