

Do You believe in Ghosts? Ghost Hunters meets Urban

IT'S THE GHOSTS FOR ME

NEW "HAUNTED" TV SERIES

HOSTED BY J'AMORE

Los Angeles, Nov 8, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - From The Phoenix Talent Agency & Esanty Productions. It's the Ghosts for me is also executive produced by J'Amore and is set to premiere on Netflix and on video-streaming service FOX+. The new six-part limited series features an unconventional hybrid of unscripted storytelling and documentary interviews with the key players whose stories are dramatized in the show.

In the series, J'Amore follows the turbulent ride of Ghost hunting. His experiences include the investigation of the paranormal. This thrilling show sends viewers on a roller coaster of emotions. It is said to be the most wanted show of 2021. It's the Ghosts for me stars a cast led by Business Mogul J'Amore

Weaving between scripted and non-scripted, J'Amores storytelling techniques include humor and gratitude towards the spirits; as he is visiting real places that are haunted or deemed paranormal as well as real-life testimonials that help put the suspicion of if ghosts are real or not, once and for all.

"Our society is internet-dependent but most of us are not familiar with many of the visionaries who brought the web into existence and battled for its soul. In Valley of the Boom, I focused on telling the humorous, messy and real stories of these inventors, investors and con men," said Carnahan. "The goal is that the way in which the story is told is as disruptive as these figures themselves."
