

Jain International Residential School (JIRS) Becomes One Among The Best Residential Schools In India

Based on records and reality, Jain International Residential School, also known as JIRS has turned out to be one of the best residential schools in India.

Bengaluru, Nov 25, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - Over the years, JIRS has garnered tons of awards from both local and international educational bodies. This is because of their unique and dogged approach to education and learning.

Jain International Residential School (JIRS) was founded in 1999 by Dr. Chenraj Roychand, under Jain Group, inspired by the idea to set up a dynamic and the best boarding Institution in India. However, this has been one of the major visions driving the prestigious institution. Admitting both local and international students from grade 4 to 12 under CBSE, IGCSE, and IB curricula, including students from Europe, Africa, UAE, and others.

JIRS stands out among the rest because of its ability to offer high standard education and quality learning system. Amongst them are top-class learning facilities. JIRS has well-equipped classrooms and laboratories that are up to international standards. Big computer lab and about 25,000 square feet library with up to 20,000 well-updated books and journals on the latest student's curriculum. Also, in the bid to maintain their position as the best residential school in India, Jain International residential school (JIRS) pays serious attention to the boarding well-being of her students. This is why it offers high standard student dorm rooms with good security. All the dormitories, including both boys and girls, are assigned a matron or warden as the case may be. This is to prevent any form of bully or ill-treatment among students. In addition to that, JIRS also did provide all the necessary amenities for students' comfort and well-being.

Then, Academic excellence! It might interest you to know that JIRS has coached lots of students into achieving their academic dreams. Apart from internal exams, JIRS has trained a lot of her students, including alumina into passing external exams (like SAT, IIT-JEE, etc.) in fly colors. In addition to that, JIRS is also in partnership with Career Launcher for CLAT, Princeton Review for SAT, etc. In JIRS, students are not only taught how to succeed in their exams, rather they are also drilled on how to succeed as a person in real life and also acquire some practical life skills.

Finally, it might interest you to know that JIRS has won lots of awards including The Top Ranking School in India from The Pioneer and Education Awards, both in 2017. However, in 2018, JIRS also won The Top Co-Educational Boarding School and one of the Top 20 boarding schools in India from Education World and Education respectively.

JIRS is one of the best Residential and International schools in India. Our strategic Vision remains, designing a comprehensive academic framework connected with the current learning by using a multi-dimensional improvement approach. And to encourage informed student's voices. To know more about us, kindly visit our website: <http://www.jirs.ac.in>
