Get to know Obstetrician-Gynecologist Dr. Juanita S. Burton, who serves patients in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

New York City, Nov 10, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Recognized as a caring and compassionate obstetrician-gynecologist, Dr. Burton delivers comprehensive health care for the reproductive system in women across two specializations: obstetrics & gynecology. In practice for over four decades, she is affiliated with Einstein Medical Center Philadelphia.

Einstein Medical Center Philadelphia is a 548-bed tertiary-care teaching hospital located in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. The non-profit hospital is a part of the Einstein Healthcare Network. It offers residency and fellowship training programs in many specialized areas. "Our mission is to enable high performing clinical teams to provide an outstanding patient experience, improve population health outcomes, reduce total costs of care while increasing quality of care, and achieve success in population health payment models."

Back in 1977, Dr. Burton graduated with her medical degree from the Sidney Kimmel Medical College. She then went on to perform her residencies in obstetrics and gynecology at MedStar Union Memorial Hospital and the Walter Reed National Military Medical Center.

A Fellow of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists (FACOG), she is board-certified in obstetrics and gynecology by the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology (ABOG). The mission of the ABOG is to define standards, certify obstetricians and gynecologists, and facilitate continuous learning to advance knowledge, practice, and professionalism in women's health.

Obstetrics and Gynecology is the medical specialty that encompasses the two subspecialties of obstetrics and gynecology. An obstetrician-gynecologist, or OB-GYN, is a healthcare professional who specializes in female reproductive health.
