

M.G.A Garage Door Repair Dallas TX Introduced Commercial Garage Door Preventive Maintenance Plans

The annual plans are now available at a discounted price.

Dallas, Nov 12, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - M.G.A Garage Door Repair Dallas TX, a leading local business of Dallas, recently announced three different preventive maintenance plans for commercial garage doors. The owners of the garage door Dallas business said at a press conference that as an introductory offer, all of the three maintenance plans are now available at a 50% discount. They also added that the preventive maintenance services come with a one-year warranty, which means customers can get a free replacement of any parts serviced or repaired within one year from the date of service.

The company now offers three different preventive maintenance plans for sectional doors, rolling doors, and rolling fire doors. Customers who would request a quote and opt for any of three maintenance plans within the month of November would get a flat 50% discount on any of the maintenance plans. The owners also informed the press that there are special discounts available on other types of garage door services as well – including tracks repair services and spring repair services.

"We inspect the condition of the sections, inspect the alignment of garage doors to ensure smooth operation, disconnect the operator manually to see if the door functions properly, lubricate the rollers and the bearings, inspect and lubricate the springs, the fasteners to check if it can be securely mounted and tighten various parts as a part of the maintenance plans. For roller fire doors, we even test the hold-open devices and the smoke detectors for added security", said a top executive of the overhead garage door Dallas company.

The CEO and managing director of the company, who was speaking at a recent trade fair, said that they are going to transform the business soon as the company will start offering garage door painting services next year. "At present, we are offering the maintenance plans so that the commercial garage owners can get complete peace of mind for full one year. We are also offering discounts on the three maintenance plans as we believe this will help us gain better traction in the garage door installation Dallas market in the coming days. This will also help us in raising awareness".
