

New Affiliate and Commission-free Travel

A new business model meets the needs of travelers post-pandemic

Milano, Nov 16, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Travel has certainly changed, but there are still personal and business reasons to continue to visit faraway places in spite of the pandemic. It is no longer a luxury for the few. Design Your Italy makes sure that it is the best possible experience with its new affiliate and commission-free travel model.

Traveling to Italy is for those seeking fashion, art, and history to food and cinema. The land of La Dolce Vita is a symbol of hope and optimism in a grim world. Design Your Italy is not a standard agency or tour operator. Instead, it helps individuals, groups, and businesses personalize their visit in a unique way.

According to the founder, Vanya Mavrodieva, "Our focus is for travelers who want to travel with all details put in place. Nothing is too small or irrelevant. We seek to enrich each traveler's experience with our new model. The difference is the upfront predetermined fee for full transparency. Our full range of services is then available."

Design Your Italy thus circumvents the conventional affiliate and commission-based fees. It may be a small enterprise, but it has big promises of safety and security while exploring an enchanting country. It has already revolutionized travel in Italy in all twenty regions, and the new model ensures trust and satisfaction.
