

New Album 'Guilty - Remastered' by Pop Artist Sherma Andrews to be released December 11th, 2020

Los Angeles, Nov 5, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - (HITMAN RECORDS, INC.)

New Album ''Guilty - Remastered' by Pop Artist Sherma Andrews to be released December 11th, 2020 available in all Retail Outlets - FYE, Walmart, Barnes & Noble, Amazon, and Digital Stores - Apple Music, and more! Pre-Release Now Available!

“The creative confluence of various genre influences in pop artist Sherma Andrews’ album, ‘Guilty-Remastered’ is a captivating journey into the cultural celebration of music.”

The album ‘Guilty-Remastered’ by pop artist Sherma Andrews is generating a new wave of musical proportions and the seamless blend of various genres into one continuous progression. The album carries its own creative streak that renders it eccentric and luxurious with the edgy versatility of new musical standards. With a vocal prowess she strings the lyrical modules into a captivating thematic story, her album stands out in its strong improvisations and inspirations that reflect through its entirety. Some of the songs from the album like ‘Run’, ‘Something ‘Bout the Way You Love Me’, ‘You’ll Never Know’, and ‘Lost’ showcase the intricacies of contemporary pop. She draws inspiration from various genres like folk, blues, jazz, and R&B to integrate an immersive soundscape of her own.

One can find traces of various musical aesthetic in ‘Guilty-Remastered’ that gives the audience a mellifluous journey of impeccable creative abilities. Each song of the album is different from one another thus paving the way for invincible energy. The album is distributed by Hitman Records that has been instrumental in Sherma Andrews’ exposure across the industry. Her accomplishments include various collaborations with artists like Enrique Iglesias, Britney Spears, Michael McDonald with her songs being featured in several TV shows like The Sopranos and The Young and The Restless. Constantly brewing her creative abilities to challenge her own limitations, she thrives to merge the inspiration of musical greatness into her individuality. Her sound is a promising scope of cultural and creative improvement that lays the foundation for a musical union of such a quality that is rare to find. Her voice undulates across the streams of various genre characteristics which each song building the grounds for a promising career ahead. Her music also transcends the virtues of human emotions that are integral to life. Listen to her album and submerge in an exquisite journey of resonating aura of music and lyrics.

Sherma Andrews is no stranger to the stage and has performed in Madison Square Garden, Jazz at Lincoln Center, Bergen Performing Arts Center, The American Music Awards, Teen Choice Awards, Billboard Music Awards, and many others.

Media Contact

Hitman Records, Inc.

info@hitmanrecords.com

323-389-1872

Source : Hitman Records, Inc.

See on IssueWire