Toledo, Nov 25, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Music can be a great medium to aware people of the drawbacks in life and utilizing this fact, Low Life Lyricist has come up with his latest music video ‘Power Ranger’. The musical arrangement of digital grooves provides the authentic flavors of rap and underground hip hop culture. The eclectic deliverance of his lyrical flow hits hard with the deep impactful verses. The rawness in the lyrics shows the unclad truth of the society and issues regarding drug abuse. The artist has shown some unique and uninhibited approach to music to create this hip hop track that represents his sense of music and rap. The beats of digital music and slow-paced rap delivery through the hypnotic soundscape create quite a hook as the track progresses.

The music video ‘Power Ranger’ is released under the production house of 3-5. The track deals the sensitive elements like substance abuse, its ill effects, and a portrayal of the junkie lifestyle which has ruined a lot of lives before even living it. The emphasis on the negative effects of drug abuse is made intentionally to create a stir among the listeners and make them give up on it who are still in process. The track motivates people to give up on the substances and progress to a healthy life. The unique approach in the track is written from the perspective of an addict and how society receives it. Dealing with life, abusive past, and slow progression to betterment, the track shows the remarkable change through cleansing life. The self-belief and realism in the track roam hand to hand till the end. The harsh cutting edge verses explicitly hit the listeners and put them through an analytical process to rethink life.
