The healthcare industry is going nowhere but up and Kevin Harrington knows it...

Colorado Springs, Nov 20, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Prime IV, an infusion therapy Franchiser headquartered in Colorado Springs, is celebrating success during the pandemic because of a growing franchise opportunity that's set to sweep the nation and disrupt the multi-trillion dollar healthcare industry.

CEO Amy Neary and her Husband Steve first received support from Harrington in the summer of 2019, just a short time after opening her first location. Harrington's astute business acumen and eye for opportunity were immediately impressed by Amy's business model causing him to choose Prime IV over another infusion therapy business opportunity.

"You may not be aware of this, but our team was days away from partnering with an I.V. company with 10 locations when we met Amy. We realized immediately that what she had accomplished and built with Prime was light years ahead of where they were, so it was an easy decision to partner with Amy and take I.V. hydration to the next level." Harrington is quoted as saying.

Kevin's investment came before the pandemic but proves to be even more fruitful than expected because of the immune-system benefits of infusion therapy and the proprietary blend of vitamins and nutrients, combined with the methods of delivery. Only about 10-20% of vitamins taken orally are absorbed whereas with this delivery method they are delivered straight to the muscles and tissues for maximum absorption. This therapy has been shown to promote nutritional balance as well as improve overall health and wellbeing significantly, helping it to be an obvious choice for those concerned about bolstering their immune system during the current times.

Despite the current economic climate, Prime IV's business model proves to be successful and lucrative for its franchisees. Prime IV has taken what used to be looked at as a hangover cure from Vegas and revolutionized its use for things like longevity, increased in energy, and overall health. They've taken a medspa approach to the infusion therapy business and it's proven to be very successful. Even with drastic increases in unemployment, Prime IV has seen accelerated growth in recent months.

CEO Amy Neary, Original Shark Kevin Harrington, and the rest of the team are excited to see such promising results during unstable times and are hopeful for the future. With the healthcare industry currently estimated to be over 4 Trillion Dollars and the IV hydration industry expected to grow by 44% over the next 7 years, Prime IV is poised to dominate the industry and provide immune system support to millions.
