

Senpex Partnering with MetisPro's Quantic POS Solution to Integrate Its On-Demand Delivery

Sunnyvale, Nov 20, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Senpex and MetisPro have announced that it is integrating its API with MetisPro's Quantic POS product offering for restaurant clients. This is in an effort to expand its technological reach into new on-demand capabilities for its restaurant customers and to be used in the enhancement of both internal operations and in its sales efforts providing new potential revenue channels.

MetisPro's platform provides its merchants with the ability to sell their products via brick-and-mortar channels, invoice professional services, install self-ordering kiosks, and now comes with on-demand eCommerce capabilities made possible through the partnerships with Senpex's on-demand delivery platform! Senpex's new API product enables marketplaces, e-commerce platforms, and other online retailers to access their elite network of over 3,000 top-performing couriers.

About MetisPro Quantic is a product suite that is owned and operated by Metispro, Corp. of Berwyn, Pennsylvania. Metispro is a cloud-based point-of-sale platform company that brings custom and intelligent data-driven solutions to help business owners streamline their sales operations. The platform provides options to sell in brick-and-mortar, invoice professional services, install self-ordering kiosks and now their eCommerce is integrated with the delivery juggernaut Senpex!
