

SISMESSAGE.ME: The Blockchain-based Messenger That is Enabling Millions to Communicate Securely

Los Angeles, Nov 17, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - From time to time, a company comes along and revolutionizes its industry and by extension the world. Today, the company doing this is SISMESSAGE.

SISMESSAGE is a messenger based on blockchain. It is a platform transparent and free platform that connects more than a million people across the world.

This crypto messenger is suitable for both social and business purposes. The company has achieved its goal of developing a universal application that grants users the opportunity to communicate in various ways.

An added benefit of SISMESSAGE is that it can also be used as a wallet for several different currencies. They are paving the way for a future where people will be able to consume, create, and regulate services and products in one decentralized Messenger Bank.

Being a platform based on blockchain, it ensures that there is no possibility of centralization. It is also incredibly secure for communication and currency storage. Here are some of the notable characteristics of SISMESSAGE.

- It supports Crypto and fiat. It also supports plastic debit X-card.
- Supports safe digital transactions while allowing you to earn SISM with your content, calls, activities, advertisements, or affiliate programs.
- This platform enables users to organize their business and manage their teams in a secure and convenient manner.

The drive behind the strong team of experts at SISMESSAGE is a frustration with the old-fashioned trends long supported by banks and global corporations. This frustration gave birth to a platform that is free of mass surveillance and control over your thoughts, finances, and life.

The future is here, and its name is SISMESSAGE. Visit us <https://sismessage.me>
