Brisbane, Nov 23, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - A powerful motivational guide that provides guidance and encouragement at every stage of our journey through life.

“The Only Ethics You Need - is a self-help book for renewing one’s mind and conduct, to lead an ethical lifestyle for the amelioration of ourselves, the society and our Cosmos, as naturally designed”

It is the responsibility of parent to raise their children right, so when kids become adults, they will be moral and productive citizens, and not menace to society.

Unfortunately, if you look at our communities today, one can tell the grassroot has been abandoned, thus, tares and weeds has outgrown the wheat. Our Ethics as individuals has dropped, so is the standard of living in our various communities and society in general. Hence this book is written by the brilliant author of similar books. To encourage the need for better selfcare and accountability as adults and better parenting in the family unit. This will help rebuild the brokenness in our society, that is the result of failed discipline.

Covering topics such as : How to raise your kids responsibly. How to behave better in public sphere. How to interact with others. How-to live-in unison with others and much more. This book will teach you all you need to learn to help you do better and attain meaning in life.
