

The Top 5 Most Viewed Twitch Channels as of Now by Hablamos de Gamers

Navarra, Nov 19, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - Hablamos de Gamers is a platform for gamers, esports lovers, followers of the video game industry. The platform enables a binary flow of sports-related information to the audience from the perspective of a gamer. The site offers daily newsletters to a massive and growing industry audience, and regularly features key figures offering their opinions on the issues of the day, often feeding back their stories and features.

As a leading name in the global market of video games, Twitch is the first name that comes up as a live streaming video service for gamers across the USA with over 100 million viewers every month. Twitch is a dynamic platform for sports content that includes personal streams of individual gamers, e-sports tournaments, and relevant talk shows. Many popular games streamed on Twitch with various individual streamers like Ninja occupying the top spots with millions of followers. Over the years, various streaming channels emerged on Twitch and the top five have garnered millions of followers in the salient history of their association with Twitch.

Ninja by Tyler Blevins tops the list of the most popular Twitch channels with over 16.1 million followers as of November 2020. The channel rose to fame with the Fortnite game. The streamer left the Twitch service back in 2019 only to re-collaborate in September 2020. Following the lead is Tfue that rose to fame with the games Call of Duty, Warzone, Fortnite, and others with a whopping follower count of 9.5 million. Channel owner Turner Tenney was banned from Twitch for 30 days in 2018 but has been back and emerged as one of the most-streamed channels in the history of Twitch.

The current third-most viewed channels on Twitch belongs to Michael Grzesiek's shroud with 8.4 million followers. His channel has been viewed and referenced for various games thus enabling a diverse range of scopes for gamers around the world. Fourth in line with 7 million viewers is Ali Kabbani's Myth or TSM Myth. With exclusive Valorant matches and other games, the channel became a quick favorite among gamers from all over the world. The fifth most viewed Twitch channel as of now is Ruben Doblaz' Rubius. Minecraft is one of the main attractions of the channel alongside talk-shows and chatting paving the way for an interactive space in the gaming world.

Hablamosdegamers.com is the leading website in the Spanish-speaking market and community, always looking for news and information about the global video game industry. The site has a significant and qualified global audience, with content that spans every part of the industry, from design, development, publishing, marketing, distribution, or retail, reaching the media, freelancers, and students. The main news content, with interviews and analysis from the opinion-forming industry, is added daily, related to video games and a comprehensive guide to events spanning the gaming business. For any information related to the above mentioned Twitch channels, events, upcoming news, reviews, and more, Hablamos de Gamers is the one-stop destination for all. Visit their official website at Hablamos de Gamers to expand your information flow with sport-related content and more.

Media Contact

HablamosdeGamers

alfredoignacio1991@gmail.com

Source : Hablamos de Gamers

See on IssueWire