VII. Review

Strong interest in developing financial infrastructure for people. I think that the integrated exchange is one of the reasons for the existence of the blockchain. This is really necessary.

Its idea of using blockchain to connect the mainstream, which is a parallel, more equalized system, is somewhat far-fetched and very interesting. However, it's also very difficult to put into practice.

The system is not complex, and it doesn't need a lot of people to make it effective.
