These new certifications are due to the tremendous efforts the Beyond Key developers put in this year to go above and beyond the client's expectations and excel in these competencies.

To earn the respective Microsoft Certifications, team members had to successfully complete several partner exams to prove their technical expertise level. Furthermore, Microsoft required customer references as proof of Beyond Key's ability to complete projects in these areas and meet specific performance metrics for revenue or consumption/usage (Gold competencies).

Piyush Goel, Founder, and CEO of Beyond Technologies LLC said, "We are proud to offer additional Microsoft services now. Thanks to everyone on the team who finished these certifications. Your commitment makes it possible to provide even better serve our clients moving forward."
