

Businesses Seek To Buy with Earv

Messapps, ArtJoker, and Many LA Companies want to buy

Los Angeles, Dec 30, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Earvin Eugene is being contacted by businesses for the purchase of the Vulture Application. It includes social networking to save data storage and battery life. It appears that he is looking for the biggest bidder. The organization that absorbs the application business will become successful.

Messapps hopes to not make a mistake and be the first buyer. Vasily states he is willing and interested. He has read EARV's books and is aware of his capabilities. The two discuss consistently over the holidays!

Earvin P Eugene has stated, "I acknowledge the fame trap. Let's see what the Money Trap is about." Earv has received numerous contract offers, but nothing to what he deserves. He plans on working with others if not properly appreciated. The doors are open for suggestions with the right price tag attached.
