

Close Connects Offers Free Music Promotion And Social Media Services For Budding Artists And Public Figures

Los Angeles, Dec 18, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Close Connects is swiftly becoming the one-stop destination for budding artists and public figures looking for social media marketing and musical promotion services. The company, founded by top entrepreneur Samuel E. Guzman, best known as Coachsamuelg, has provided highly effective music promotion service to 45 artists alone this year for free of cost. The promotional services, including Google SEO, provided by the company, proved extremely profitable for the musicians in the long run. The company offers music promotion services for major music streaming platforms like Spotify, SoundCloud, YouTube, and more.

Close connects was founded on the motto to give back to the community. The CEO and the founder, Coachsamuelg, is dedicated to building a massive network that benefits everyone in the future. The company is doing beyond its duties for the members of the Close Connects family. The website offers the best customer service. It is available 24x7 for the customers, helping them in every step of the marketing process. It alone allows them to stand out in the crowd.

The company offers the best social media marketing service specializing in platforms such as Instagram, Twitter, Facebook, Snapchat, and more. They also give promotional services for gamers on Twitch as well as budding artists on Tik Tok. It provides press release services aimed at spreading brand awareness for the users. Musicians, DJs, record label owners, models, and more can get high-quality online promotions and create social media buzz with the company's personalized marketing strategies. For more information, visit their website closeconnectsllc.com and follow them on social media pages.

Media Contact

Samuel E. Guzman

Closeconnectsllc@gmail.com

Source : Close Connects

See on IssueWire