Get to know Nurse Practitioner student, Kimber L. Gordon, who serves patients in Killeen, Texas.

New York City, Dec 3, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Kimber is a nurse whose specialties include women's health, labor & delivery, and neonatal intensive care unit. She works at AdventHealth Central Texas in Killeen, Texas.

AdventHealth is one of the largest health care providers in the United States, with thousands of compassionate professionals working to Extend the Healing Ministry of Christ around the country. "In labor and delivery, it's the little things that matter most. So when your littlest is ready to make an appearance, trust a team that cares for every detail. Within the AdventHealth network, formerly Metroplex Health System, they offer many mom-focused amenities to keep you comfortable. Along the way, you'll be guided by board-certified OB/GYNs, expert neonatologists, and a specialty trained nursing staff who'll be there for you throughout your pregnancy — from your first prenatal care visit to labor and delivery, postpartum support, and beyond. Whether it's your first birth or your fifth, they want to help you with your baby's big debut" as stated on their website.

Graduating with her Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree from A&M Central Texas,, Kimber is currently pursuing her Master of Science in Nursing degree from Regis College while working as an obstetrical and gynecological nurse.

In order to stay up to date in her field, she remains a member of several professional organizations. These include: the American Nurses Association & the Association of Women's Health, Obstetric and Neonatal Nurses.

A Nurse Practitioner (NP) is an advanced practice registered nurse and a type of mid-level practitioner. NPs are trained to assess patient needs, order and interpret diagnostic and laboratory tests, diagnose disease, as well as formulate and prescribe treatment plans.
