

The Ally You Need In Your Corner To Go To The Next Level

Everyone Wants What It Looks Like, Greatness Is Achieved By Doing What It Feels Like

London, Dec 22, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Don't live your life, Thrive in it. Could you be on the brink of greatness? As humans, we all have the capacity to achieve greatness yet so few truly do. The two most common traits in successful people are self-awareness and authenticity, yet in general, people have the inability to effectively self-access. Compound this with the ever-growing fear of judgement, disapproval and nonconformity, so many settle for far less than they are capable of. We often overestimate who and where we are but underestimate who we have the capacity to be.

People are driven by two things, pain and pleasure. Most live life dancing between the avoidance of pain and the calling of pleasure, ending up somewhere right between, no (wo)mans land. Caught up in trials, complexity and uncertainty of life, few ever stop and ask themselves, What do I want? So, what do you want? No, not that thing, what do you really want?

Are you ready to see your extraordinary? Shiv Thakor is a performance coach who helps people navigate their journey from ordinary to extraordinary. Increase self-awareness and authenticity, strategise, implement and execute so you can thrive. Relentless in his approach, Thakor isn't interested in telling you what you want to hear, he tells you what you need to hear. Unapologetically honest, Thakor has the rare ability to see the best in clients and organisations focusing wholeheartedly on unleashing and maximising potential.

Discover who you really are with the help of Shiv Thakor's deep and powerful coaching. His proven method helps you uncover what's holding your back from being that person you were meant to be. Often asked by people and clients alike, how do I find my gift? Your gift is what comes easy to you that is difficult for most. The challenge for most however is the inability to appreciate the capacity and capability they have within them resulting in life that is unfulfilled, crippled with regret and a feeling of underachievement.

People suffer more from their lack of imagination than they ever will with their belief or optimism. In a time where uncertainty is the highest it has been for decades, responsibility will inevitably be what separates those that thrive and those that merely survive. Response-ability - the ability to respond to the challenges, unforeseen circumstances and uncertainty the fastest.

Thakor relishes creating an environment where you get more out of yourself, where you become more of who you really are. How much do you want from yourself? His transformative coaching is absolutely unapologetic in approach focusing on the best in people, removing excuses and barriers so you can achieve incredible results. By helping his clients to take charge of their lives, Thakor empowers those around him to forge a legacy and achieve the extraordinary.

What can a performance coach do for you? Whether you're an individual or an organisation, being able to achieve more is what drives you. Yet, as we know from experience, achieving goals doesn't just happen. They take strategic planning and coaching. Someone who understands that you don't need motivation, but rather the right tools and techniques to reduce stress and remove distractions on your journey to success.

Through his coaching, Shiv will help you:

- Plan to thrive in challenging times
- Go beyond your comfort zone with ease
- Get unstuck from time traps and procrastination
- Trust in your decision making and focus on moving forward
- Create space for reflection to improve performance
- Gain clarity that aligns your vision to an attainable outcome
- Reverse-engineer your greatness

Discover who you really are with the help of Shiv Thakor's deep and powerful coaching. His proven method helps you uncover and decode what's holding your back from being that person you were meant to be. Looking at your behavioural preferences, drivers and motivators as well as decision-making styles, you will understand yourself better than you ever have following the work you do together.

Thakor has worked with a diverse range of high-achievers in fields ranging from finance to entertainment. His clients include professional athletes, business executives, and transformational visionaries of change. A performance coach who helps people unleash their potential, challenge the status quo & create legacy, Shiv Thakor is a change maker.

Shiv is a highly sought after, world-class performance coach and business consultant who has helped hundreds of people take action, live with passion and achieve incredible results in all areas of their life. If you're looking for a magic bullet or quick fix then maybe Shiv isn't the right coach for you. However, if you want someone to partner with you towards the best version of YOU and develop skills that will stay with you AND allow you to grow long into the future then arrange a free consultation to explore what's possible. Before you do, be sure you are willing to do the work, Thakor will demand more from you than anyone else so you can create what others won't.

Your life will be a representation of how you think, the decisions you make and the action you take. Will you chose to sacrifice and legacy or comfort and regret? There is a price to pay for success, is it worth the trade-off to you?
