

Vyre Network's - vSport Signs WNFC To A Global Distribution Deal That Progresses The Sport Of Football

Los Angeles, Dec 3, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - The Women's National Football Conference (WNFC) and Vyre Network announced today a multi-year partnership in which Vyre Network will televise live WNFC games and other long-form content globally beginning with the upcoming 2021 season.

With worldwide access and having been downloaded in over 116 countries, Vyre is leading the way to create a global platform that allows all content creators to tell and share their stories. Vyre Network will distribute live WNFC games globally, beginning on Saturday, May 1 (7:00 PM, ET), when the Atlanta Phoenix host the Washington Prodigy

"Through our partnership with Vyre Network, the WNFC is solving a major hurdle for women's tackle football sports fans. They will now have somewhere to go to watch our content 24 hours per day, 7 days a week," said WNFC CEO Odessa Jenkins. "Teaming up with Lamar (Seay) and David (Hill) is also important. We are going to set an example of how black business owners can change the world when we come together and share our gifts, creativity, and resources. I want to thank Vyre for making such a meaningful commitment to women's tackle football and for providing a global platform to showcase the world-class athletes of the WNFC."

Best of all, Vyre Network is completely FREE to download and stream www.watchvyre.com. Available on all major streaming outlets worldwide, including Apple TV, Roku, Amazon Fire, Android, iOS, and the web.

"This partnership is another step in the right direction of equality in sports and entertainment. We are very excited about the possibilities and are working hard to turn the WNFC into a household name worldwide. Working with Odessa and being able to tap into our own creative minds for a greater cause has been a blessing. We look forward to assisting the sports industry with moving forward progressively" - President, Lamar Seay

The 2021 WNFC season, entering its 2nd season, tips off Saturday, May 1, and features 20 teams vying for a championship, including the Alabama Fire, Atlanta Phoenix, Carolina Queens, Denver Bandits, Florida Avengers, Houston Heat, Kansas City Glory, La Muerta De Las Cruces, Las Vegas Silver Stars, Los Angeles Bobcats, Mississippi Lady Panthers, Nebraska Nite Hawks, Oregon Ravens, Philly Phantomz, Phoenix Prowlers, San Diego Rebellion, Seattle Majestics, Texas Elite Spartans, Utah Falconz, and Washington Prodigy

Visit <https://www.wnfcfootball.com/schedules> to access the 2021 season schedule.

About Vyre Network

Vyre Network represents a visually driven culture, from millennials to generations X, Y, and Z. They distribute short films, feature films, documentaries, TV series, live stream sporting events and concerts, and curated music video playlists featuring your favorite artists.

Vyre allows popular culture to express itself as consumers and creators without boundaries. This includes original shows, feature films, short films, music videos, and exclusive live events. Vyre Network is available FREE for download globally on Apple TV, Roku, Amazon Fire Stick, Android, iPhone, and the web.

About the WNFC

The Women's National Football Conference (WNFC) was founded in Nov 2018, with a passion to create a standard of excellence and more opportunity in women's tackle football. The WNFC supplies female athletes, coaches, and fans with the most entertaining, high-quality, most competitive brand of football for women in the country. Fueled by passion and a plan to deliver professional women's tackle football to the world. In collaboration with their generous sponsors and strategies of the WNFC leadership team, the league delivers the best-in-class experience for partners, athletes, and teams.

Players in the WNFC are offered state-of-the-art protection on the field and ample opportunities off of it through partnerships and alliances developed by the WNFC leadership team. In 2021, the WNFC will feature 20 teams, playing a 10-week (spring 2021) season, broadcasting globally on Vyre.

Media Contact

Women's National Football Conference

admin@wnfcfootball.com

Source : Vyre Network

See on IssueWire