

Youth Activist Jacob J Wood Launches Anti-Vaping Non-Profit

Jacob J Wood a Generation Z youth activist, started EndTheVape Health Initiative a non-Profit aimed at ending the youth vaping epidemic in America.

Los Angeles, Dec 21, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - EndTheVape Health Initiative is a 501(c)3 organization dedicated to ending vaping among young people.

By educating young people as well as with the help of legislation, the organization seeks to usher in major changes to deal with the youth vaping crisis.

According to the NIH More than 44,000 students in a 2018 annual survey of drug, alcohol, and cigarette use in 8th, 10th, and 12th graders, about 37% of 12th graders reported vaping in 2018, compared with 28% in 2017.

The initiative was developed by Jacob J Wood, at only 19 years old. He strives to fight and expose the practice of vaping to youth people. He is referred to as his nickname “Jwood”, and happens to be the president of the EndTheVape Health Initiative.

With education programs such as speakers that teach during school assemblies, the initiative is meant to help end the addictive practice of vaping – thus saving many lives in the process. EndTheVape is a 501(c)3 so all donations are tax-deductible

About EndTheVape:

A 501(c) 3 youth run organization, EndTheVape Health Initiative is intended to end the practice of vaping that has assumed epidemic proportions among young people, particularly Generation Z.
