New York City, Jan 12, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Kevin Chan, DO, MS, MMM, PCEO, FASA, FAIHM Is a board-certified lipidologist at Pineapple Health in Phoenix and has been providing expert care for more than 20 years. Dr. Chan is an integrative and holistic physician who focuses on total health and especially in heart attack and stroke prevention. Instead of placing a Band-Aid over an existing health issue, he finds the root cause to cure the issue and improve overall wellness. Dr. Chan specializes in integrative lipidology, in which he synergizes functional medicine with oriental herbology. He is also the first lipidologist in the Valley to expand his practice to offer in-office liposuction and fat transfer.

Dr. Chan holds an undergraduate degree in neuroscience from Brown University and a master's degree in physiology from the University of Maryland, Baltimore. After obtaining his medical degree from New York College of Osteopathic Medicine, Dr. Chan first completed his residency in family medicine and then a fellowship in occupational and environmental medicine at Mount Sinai School of Medicine in New York City.

To further enhance his skill set and provide better care to his patients, Dr. Chan is taking multiple board certifications over the next few years. He has completed 2 fellowships in integrative medicine and an additional fellowship in antiaging, metabolic, and functional medicine. Dr. Chan is also certified in hormone therapy by the Academy of Preventive and Innovative Medicine as well as the Age Management Medicine Group.

Dr. Chan is loved by his patients and was featured in Entrepreneur and soon INC magazine and Sonoran Living. He is also an elected member of The Leading Physicians of the World.
