When you think about sleep accessories, the first thing that comes to our mind is a pillow. But what kind of pillow makes you the most comfortable? Yes, it does matter! All pillows do not support your neck and shoulders properly. Different kinds of sleepers need different kinds of pillows. People with different types of neck, shoulder, and back problems also need different variants. Livpure offers a huge range of pillows. Let us look at some.

Microfiber pillow

Best suited for side sleepers and cuddlers, Livpure's microfiber pillow- Cloud, gives optimum neck support throughout the night. With 22 GSM microfiber fillings to give extra softness, the pillow cradles your neck and head with extraordinary comfort. It is made with hypoallergenic material to keep you sneeze-free. Even when you toss and turn, it stays properly aligned to your head in any position.

Travel neck pillow

These are mainly designed for use in a vehicle to help support the head and neck while you are traveling. These pillows are supportive and can make traveling easier on your neck and shoulders. These travel pillows can also be used at home for reading, watching TV, or reclining. Not just for travel or sitting, many of these pillows can be used laying down on your back, relieving the pressure from your neck in certain positions. They usually consist of lobes around a half-circle and they are used with the lobes facing down around your shoulders, however, you can experiment with the lobes facing up to find the perfect support while you sleep.

Travel neck pillows are made from supportive memory foam. Memory foam adjusts to the shape of the neck. The memory foam will adapt to any movement you make. Livpure travel neck pillow is not only made from the best memory foam but is also moisture-wicking and thermally resistant. It will keep you cool throughout your journey or when sleeping at night.

Cervical pillow

The Cervical Pillow from Livpure- Curve, is designed ergonomically to give perfect support to your neck and shoulders. The memory foam pillow conforms to the natural curves of your head, neck, and shoulders and is ideal for the side as well as back sleepers. It provides relief to neck and back pain. It gives support to your spine, reduces snoring, and helps lower spondylitis pain. The cool gel technology keeps you cool even on warm nights. What more, the make of the pillow is hypoallergenic.

Be assured of effective relief from neck, shoulder, and back pains with this pillow and sleep soundly without any disturbances.

Memory foam is known to conform to your body's curves and reduce motion transfer. Livpure gives the consumers two pure memory foam pillows.

Breeze - the cool gel memory foam pillow wakes you up to fresh every day. Made with cool gel technology, the memory foam pillow circulates your body heat and gives you a cooler and comfortable sleep. The memory foam adapts to your neck and head and provides ideal support for you to sleep peacefully all night. The gel pillow comes with a washable and breathable outer fabric for a longer life of the product. Like Livpure's other products, this also is made with hypoallergenic material.

Carbon - the charcoal-infused memory foam pillow, protects your skin by keeping the pillow cool and being anti pollutant and airy and breathable.
