District of Columbia, Washington, D.C, Jan 22, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Snob Nails was founded by London Ward a woman who is fastly making a name for herself in the nail industry. London's company is a Nail Salon and Nail Technician School producing quality couture nails and educated skilled Techs. Backed by the DC and MD Board of Cosmetology Snob Nails' mission is to produce young black entrepreneurs and create an impact on the positive side of the beauty industry through educated, skillful nail practitioners. She started Snob Nails with no loans, no handouts and $6,500 of her saved salary from being a nurse. While working as a nurse London sparked an interest in creating residual income due to being a mother of a special needs child that grew into a passion for doing nails. In June 2020 she made history opening up currently what is the sole and only Black Owned Nail Technician school in the DMV area. By November 2020 London's school became a Maryland WIOA partner being able to offer free tuition to all Maryland residents leaving school at zero cost to them. Since opening, her school has had a 100% passing rate for state boards and is quickly becoming noted as the "Harvard of Nail Tech School". Snob Nails is located in Temple Hills, MD on the lower level of the historic mall know as Iverson Mall.
