Roof Life of Oregon: Certified Brava Installers

Sole Installer of Synthetic Roofing Products in Portland, OR

Roof Life of Oregon today announced Brava Certification, a line of synthetic roofing products. Brava composite roof tiles are eco-friendly and offer unparalleled moss resistance in wet climates.

"We've finally found a synthetic roofing product that has stood the test of time. We have been concerned about the quality of some of the man-made roofing materials on the market for the past 20 years or so. Luckily, that's not the case with Brava.", said Patrick D. Moran, Founder of Roof Life of Oregon.

Features and benefits of Brava composite roofing products include.

- Durability: BRAVA's composite roof tiles are all rated Class 4, meaning shingles undergo rigorous impact testing to withstand heavy elements dropping on them. The heaviest of hailstorms couldn't penetrate a synthetic roof.

- Versatile: There are a number of colors and styles to choose from with synthetic roofing. Even if composite tiles are among the most common roofing type, there's no reason for them all to look the same!
- Environmentally Friendly: Most composite shingles are made from recycled materials, reducing your carbon footprint, and protecting the environment.
- Resilience to Roof Moss: Living in a moist climate like that of Portland, roofs are extremely susceptible to roof moss. Composite roof shingles are resilient to those effects. The composite material absorbs less moisture, keeping the shape of the shingles over time. Synthetic material is constructed to withstand extreme weather and is fire retardant.

Brava roofing products are currently available for installation in the greater Portland area. For more information,
