Texas, Paris, Jan 28, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Powderly, Texas: The world is full of meat lovers, and who does not love a good meal prepared with beef jerky. However, when it comes to jerky, it's always costlier and mostly come in packages, making many meat lovers miss out on a great serving of beef jerky.

Talking about their beef jerky, Ted Slanker, Founder, Slanker Grass-Fed Meat says, "Our beef jerky is different. It's not like the regular jerky you find out there which is often too dried up and rubbery. We supply grass-fed beef jerky which is much more natural and has a much delicious and palatable taste and flavor."

Further, talking about the prices, packaging, and discount on the jerky, he said, "Well, jerky is often priced higher, the main reason being it's dried meat and it takes time to produce that. Moreover, people buy them in packages rather than buying them in pounds which can be a lot more affordable. That's where we come in with our jerky, a delicious and healthier version in form of grass-fed beef jerky which is sold by the pounds. And considering our customers coming back to us all the time for our jerky and relishing them, we thought it a good idea to offer them a little more advantage with a discount. This is the best price you can actually get beef jerky at and I don't think anyone will want to miss an opportunity to have a great pound of beef jerky at a great discount on the go."
