

Sonance announced today it was honored with the 2020 Companies That Care Award by the Orange County Business Journal

San Clemente, Jan 11, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - The Companies That Care Award is the top honor for companies that are, despite the odds, making Orange County a better place for all. Other 2020 award winners include Edwards Lifesciences, Experian, PIMCO, and Wells Fargo.

“Sonance, through its foundation has supported our local community for many years”, said Scott Struthers, the co-founder of Sonance, a home technology company. “We continue to expand our giving and are pleased to use our foundation as a way to give back to our community and the people in need.”

Sonance Foundation focuses on three main areas: Education, the Environment, and Local People in Need. In 2020, the foundation funded scholarships at San Juan Hills and San Clemente High School participated in cleanups at San Clemente Pier, and provided food, shelter, and counsel to children and families throughout all of Orange County.

“2020 was a tough year for many people,” added Struthers. “We’re proud to be honored by the OCBJ and look forward to helping even more in 2021”.

About Sonance Foundation:

Through volunteer work and philanthropy, The Sonance Foundation focuses on education, protection of our beautiful beaches and the ocean, and on helping people in need throughout our community.

About Sonance:

Sonance was founded in 1983 by Scott Struthers and Geoff Spencer, who introduced the world's first in-wall loudspeaker. This achievement led to many more "firsts" and proud heritage of innovation. It also inspired a philosophy that continues to drive the company's brands today: that technology can and should blend in with the architecture and great design. With a wide range of solutions that are designed to disappear, Sonance has cultivated long-standing, authentic partnerships with leading architects, interior design professionals, custom installers, design-conscious consumers, and end-users, from their home base in San Clemente, California, and throughout the world.
