

Sonja Cheese, LPN, Licensed Practical Nurse

Get to know Licensed Practical Nurse, Sonja Cheese, who serves patients in McCordsville, Indiana.

New York, New York City, Jan 22, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Graduating with her nursing degree from J. Everett School of Nursing in 1997, Sonja is a licensed practical nurse who provides routine care for the sick or injured. Her areas of expertise include long-term care, geriatric care, and correctional nursing.

In practice for over two decades, she attributes her successful career to her love of helping people. She feels that it is her purpose to help those in need.

A Licensed Practical Nurse (LPN) is on the front line of nursing, interacting directly with patients on a daily basis. They work under the supervision of doctors and RNs, performing duties such as taking vital signs, collecting samples, administering medication, ensuring patient comfort, and reporting the status of their patients to the nurses.

LPNs are generally hired in smaller settings such as nursing homes, home health environments, and rehabilitation centers. They must be skilled in balancing care for patients and completing practical daily administrative tasks.
