Fort Lauderdale Party Scene: 40 Years of Duaiv Art and Edith Piaf's Yacht

Art and yachts come together this Sunday evening at the studio of acclaimed French abstract artist

Duaív, where a cocktail party and art exhibit will be co-hosted by celebrity hypnotherapist, author, and documentary filmmaker Valerie Austin. Both Duaív and Austin share a love for boats: they are a recurring subject in Duaív's art, while Austin is an accomplished yachtswoman and boat enthusiast. The site of the party, Duaív's residence and studio on Fort Lauderdale's New River, just happens to have ample waterfront to accommodate Austin's yacht, the Flamant Rose. The 100-foot yacht, previously owned by the famed French singer Edith Piaf, was purchased by Austin and her husband nearly 20 years ago and is currently anchored on the Thames River in London. Plans are underway to bring the opulent 1930's-era boat to Fort Lauderdale to be moored at Duaív's dock. During Sunday's party – a celebration of Duaív's 40 years of painting – a limited number of guests will have a first glimpse of the artist's newest and personally curated collection of artworks, while Austin will give a short talk on the Flamant Rose. Co-hosting the event with Austin are Anaide Govaert, Honorary Consul Emeritus of Belgium; and Lady Blanka Rosenstiel, Honorary Consul of Poland.

Enclosed is a Brochure of the classical luxury yacht which is featured in the Billionaire magazine with a walkthrough video. It is moored at, St.Katharine's Marina, Central London
