

Award-Winning Abstract Artist Matthew R. Paden Launches new Website Focused on Spontaneous Realism

“Evocative Sophistication” is how Mathew R. Paden’s art is often described. His new website showcases his energetic style.

Oklahoma, Oklahoma City, Feb 6, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - For over four years now award-winning artist Mathew R. Paden has been exploring Spontaneous Realism, taking inspiration from everyday life, and expressing it in his work. In exciting news, Paden recently stepped up to make his work more easily accessible with the launch of his official website. The new website showcases some of his popular work, as well as opens an easy way to contact Paden to hire him for custom work or book showings. The excitement surrounding this new aspect of his work is high and rising.

“I’m often asked why I paint,” commented the clearly passionate artist. “I’ve always loved art — seeing it, learning about it, experiencing it, and creating it. Perhaps, it is the unbridled freedom in expressing, and questioning the often-chaotic world around me... It’s why I find Spontaneous Realism so appealing to explore in my work.”

Paden’s work is most often categorized as contemporary and modern design high-end fine art. He is extremely interested in solo and group shows and encourages gallery curators to reach and out and discuss potential showings especially in Portland, OR; San Francisco, CA; Denver, CO; Austin, TX; Scottsdale, AZ; Orlando, FL; New York, NY; and Seattle, WA.

Feedback from fans and clients has been remarkably positive.

Trevor Y., from Oregon, recently said, "I have commissioned a series of paintings and am about to receive my second painting of the series. The style is so striking, everyone always comments on and loves the first painting I purchased of Fred Rogers. Cannot wait for the Disney painting to arrive!

It has been such an amazing process to go through as this series has come to life. I could not be more pleased."

To learn more visit <https://www.savvypalette.com>.

Media Contact

Matthew R. Paden

info@savvypalette.com

14055887192

2503 South 19th Street

Source : Savvy Palette

See on IssueWire