

Captivating New Fine Art Photography Book Takes You On An Inspirational Journey.

Breathtaking photographs reveal the healing and inspiring power of nature with images of Hawaii and California, created by the photographers from Latitudes Galleries in Ventura, California and Kauai.

California, Ventura, Feb 11, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Ventura's Latitudes Gallery is thrilled to release its third book, "Inspirations", this month. The hardcover book is a compilation of breathtaking photographs, blended with moving touches of poetry, inviting you to delight in nature's magnificence and its power to inspire. 144 pages of original photographic images captured by Stephanie Hogue and Steve Munch.

"This has been such a challenging year for so many of us," owner and artist Hogue says. "Nature has the power to heal and inspire, even when our horizons are more limited. We're excited to share the work that has awed us the most, to invite others to take in nature's beauty and wonder."

Local artists and business owners Hogue and Munch opened Latitudes Fine Art Gallery, with locations in Ventura, CA, and Po'ipu, Kauai, in 2013. "Our partnership as artists is all about a beautiful balance," Hogue says, "and we're so excited to share it in Inspirations."
