North Carolina, Burlington, Feb 15, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Cornelius Muller Productions presents Sacred Hearts

Cornelius Muller Productions is thrilled to announce the release of its latest faith-based film, Sacred Hearts, a tale of two families navigating through the trials of family and relationships. In this movie, two families are introduced and the audience is able to follow them through their journey of love, faith, struggles, differences, and hard decisions. Starring Vanelle as Leigh Davis, Joseph Gray as Brock Hamilton, Cornelius Muller as Martin Davis, and Directed by Burgess Jenkins, Sacred Hearts ultimately showcases what it means to grow in love, spiritual faith, and life making it the perfect film to indulge in this month of love and Black History where everyone is celebrating growth and uniqueness. Sacred Hearts can be streamed on the streaming service Pure Flix.

Cornelius Muller is the co-writer and co-director of this film, as well as an actor. Cornelius Muller Productions is a North Carolina based film company creating inspirational films that inspire and entertain. It was important for Cornelius to showcase Sacred Hearts in time for Black History Month, showcasing its diverse cast and storylines. Spreading a great message and also showing other young, Black and spiritual film creators that it is possible and there is an end goal worth reaching is what Cornelius Muller Productions is about.

Grab your popcorn and your loved ones for a story of changes, love, and relationships, and stream Sacred Hearts on Pure Flix. Sacred Hearts has something for everyone this month!
