

Educational games product, KettleMind selected to showcase In National Toy Fair 2021

Don't spend money to play educational games!

Karnataka, Bengaluru, Feb 25, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Happy Adda Studios, a Bangalore-based company and leading educational games developer and publisher, announced its participation in the first-ever National Toy Fair 2021 being conducted by the Government of India. KettleMind is a pack of 20+ cognitive skills & brain training online games. Happy Adda Studios is accelerated by Google Inc and funded by CIIE of IIM-Ahmedabad.

The 4-day National Toy Fair will be hosted virtually by the Export Promotion Council for Handicrafts (EPCH) starting from 27th February will be inaugurated by the Hon'ble Prime Minister. Co-organized by the Toy Association of India, the exhibition is a great opportunity for toy manufacturers along with online game developers to come together and showcase their toys and games to buyers and toy enthusiasts across the world.

Speaking about the opportunity, Mr. Raja Sekhar Vasa, Co-founder, and COO, Happy Adda Studios, said, "Even teachers and parents encourage students to play KettleMind educational games. These help in assessing cognitive skills like focus, memory, visual perception, language, along with problem-solving and logical reasoning skills. We are excited to have opportunities like the Toy Fair 2021 that help showcase our educational products. We take this opportunity to offer these games at no cost. Schools can contact us so that we can offer KettleMind to their students. We are already partnered with Atal Innovation Mission(AIM) to make these games accessible to Atal Tinkering Labs (ATL) students."

KettleMind games are also being released on the Facebook platform as Instant games. Users can directly play these games without installing them on their smartphones. Users can also search for KettleMind in the Google play store and install these games on their Android smartphones.
