Massachusetts, Newton, Feb 21, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Invisalign®, also known as clear braces, is an orthodontic method that uses removable 'invisible trays' to slowly correct misaligned teeth creating a better, straighter smile. The apparatus used is referred to as 'invisible' because the trays are barely noticeable from the mouth of the wearer. This feature has made Invisalign® gain popularity worldwide and most of its former and current users have vouched for its comfortability and effectiveness.

The Benefits of Using Invisalign

- They are convenient– Invisalign® aligners work in sets and you are required to change into a new one after a specified period. As you progress with your treatment, be prepared to see your orthodontist after every four to six weeks for new trays and further adjustments. The meetings with your practitioner will be scheduled based on your availability or schedule to avoid any inconveniences.
- Invisalign requires simple oral hygiene – With Invisalign®, maintaining proper oral hygiene is not a challenging task because they are removable. This makes it far too easy for you to floss and brush your teeth regularly.
- Comfortability– Clear trays are sleek, smooth, and cause little gum irritation. This means they are the perfect alternative to persons with metal allergies. However, it is possible for minor sores to appear when a new set of trays have been installed for the first time. The sores are a result of your teeth shifting in an effort to accommodate your new aligners. The soreness is supposed to fade away in a couple of days so, if it doesn't, be sure to see your dental practitioner as soon as you can for further evaluation.
- Best aesthetics– Woodland Hills Invisalign aligners will fit tightly over your teeth and will be almost invisible to those in your surroundings. Although metal braces post the same results as clear braces, the metal wire, brace, and bracket appliances are obvious to people hence cannot be used discreetly.
