Florida, Orlando, Feb 2, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Spawned out of Coronavirus fear-mongering and unconstitutional lockdowns and mask mandates, Matt Buff and Brittany Walker decided they were fed up and weren't going to take it anymore. Buff, a dedicated father, and veteran radio host decided to take to the airwaves once again due to not being able to watch his son play baseball because of early Coronavirus lockdowns.

"From the beginning, this was all about controlling our lives with unconstitutional orders and mandates. The government and media never cared about our safety, they only cared about controlling the masses through fear and fascistic fear-mongering. I couldn't just sit there and say nothing," said Buff.

Co-Host Brittany Walker was similarly motivated. Brittany is Co-Founder of Protect Central Florida, a movement spanning across Volusia, Seminole, and Orange Counties, dedicated to protecting freedom in our local communities.

"They can't take away our freedoms and infringe on our liberties. Our founding documents are meant to protect us from the type of lockdown tyranny we have seen over the past 9 months. As I have done in the past, I will use my voice and vigor to fight for the citizens as they are under direct assault from the Democrats and leftist media," explained Walker.

Some notable upcoming guests include Roger J. Stone Jr. on Feb 8, Bryson Gray Feb 9, Karyn Turk Feb 22, Pastor Greg Locke Feb 18, and Pastor Mark Burns Feb 23.

From Spotify to Pandora, and all other major streaming platforms, The Buff Show can be listened to live and on-demand. To learn more, visit thebuffshow.com
