Florida, Miami, Feb 14, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Is your HVAC not working to optimum efficiency? Are you receiving foul and humid air from your Air-Conditioning vents? You are suffering from a possible duct clogging experience which has a major role to play in the above disasters. What you need is an experienced air duct cleaning Miami such as Coolex to clean up your HVAC and ductwork and render them free of dust and dirt. Coolex is a licensed and insured air duct cleaning contractor with extraordinary skills and expertise to handle the expectation of client's demands. The company commands a team of HVAC engineers, construction management technicians, and business application staff who have the experience and skills to provide the best duct cleaning solutions to residential pockets, warehouses, and greenhouse and barn solutions.

Use Professional Equipment to clean ducts

Based in Miami, Florida the duct cleaning and HVAC maintenance contractor provide time-bound service to both homes and commercial establishments using the latest cleaning duct cleaning equipment. Ducts need cleaning every 2-3 years because they accumulate a tremendous amount of dirt and allergens from the air. Dirt mixed with moist air circulating within the HVAC system form dirt cakes that are stuck to the ductwork and hard to remove. No amount of DIY could remove them because they need professional equipment to carry out the cleaning. Coolex uses a powerful HEPA-filtered Vacuum to clean ducts and vents. It ensures thorough removal and cleaning of caked dirt, allergens, and debris and the company also uses the right containment processes so dirt does not get out of hand and spread into your rooms.

Certified Duct Cleaning Provider

Coolex also provides air duct cleaning Fort Lauderdale and deploys only approved and practiced duct cleaning methods that are safe and environment friendly. They are NADCA members and certified ASCS (Air Systems Cleaning Specialist), hence are able to adapt the correct procedures while cleaning ducts. Their air duct cleaning will include air handler, evaporative coil, condenser coil, inside HVAC cabinet, vents and registers, blower wheels, and fan motors. The company also uses the latest vacuum cleaners that are industrial grade and also carry truck-mounted containment tanks to remove and contain dirt and throw them out safely. Their duct cleaning is professional and services are economical, and you can visit their Website: <https://www.coolexusa.com/> to unearth more information and details of their service.
