

Straight Bank Represents His City in “Queens,” Produced By Harm Sandhu

New York, New York City, Feb 7, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Everyone knows that some of the greatest rappers of all time came from the Queens. And hopefully, Straight Bank makes it to that level himself. A relatively new rapper, he is already making his own name in the American-Punjabi rap scene. This rapper stands out from the bunch with that classic New York flow we all recognize and by not skimping on superior music. One thing that Straight Bank does not lack is hard work. Already, he's released a new album “The Straight Bank Project” to keep the heat coming right at the start of 2021.

With a strong flow, this fresh face needs banging beats and a real song. That’s Harm Sandhu’s specialty, teaming up with true talent and potential and giving that missing link to growing an artist to later success. Similar upcoming artists can take advantage of Sandhu’s offers for mixing and mastering services which can be found below.
