California, Los Angeles, Feb 16, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - THE ENTREPRENEUR LIFE!

By Tony Deoleo

My favorite part of the weekend after a long entrepreneur week happens when we stay in LA every other weekend. We go away from our home in riverside county and meet the craziness of downtown Los Angeles, where she works as a successful entrepreneur and executive in corporate America.

Just five feet away, she sleeps deeply, recovering from a busy week, knowing that I am there watching over her sleep. I look at the apparently peaceful Downtown from the 27th floor's window of my loft-office in the heart of the financial district of downtown LA. I start visualizing and planning the next entrepreneur project.

Being an entrepreneur is like a breath of air; you cannot live out of your last breath of air. You must continue getting more air to keep your life going. As an entrepreneur, you must continue planning and executing the next ten projects. Still, when you are almost done with the current project, you cannot stop yourself start work on the next project. You can only keep the entrepreneurial cycle going if you can take on the next project, the next fresh breath of air. You simply cannot remain in the past, even for a few days.

The entrepreneurial life never ends since your passion and commitment keep you pushing forward despite the 1000 setbacks. You come up with new ideas and new concepts. The adrenaline of the entrepreneurial challenge to bring a nascent idea to fruition drives you like nothing else. You know that you can help improve the quality of life of thousands of others and contribute to making the world a better place for everyone. This idea of innovation drives the entrepreneurial life for everyone passionate about keeping life fresh and happening!
